

knows of what stuff the Radical party is made, and is aware that he runs no risk in publishing just what suits his purposes. In the first place, there never was such a party as the Radical Democracy, so how could a thing that had no existence be responsible for what had been done. While the true Democracy was a party potential in the land, we enjoyed peace, property, and happiness. We lived under a constitutional government, enjoyed exemption from high taxes, corrupt officials and tyrannical rulers. It was only with the advent of Radicalism that "rings" were established to deplete the treasury and fill every department of the Government both State and Federal, with incompetent and corrupt office holders.

The question of reputation is again looming up. Why? Because the people have become perfectly satisfied that a major part of the debt was wrongfully and corruptly contracted.

We understand that Gen. D. H. Hill has been made agent for North Carolina of THE LOUISIANA EQUITABLE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF NEW ORLEANS.

This is one of the very best companies in the country. It has the endorsement of Bishop Wilmer, Gen. Beauregard, Hood, Harry Hays and the leading men of New Orleans. Gen. Beauregard, says: "Its Officers and Directors have been selected from our most reliable and intelligent citizens."

Instead of sending $40,000,000 annually North, our citizens can find better companies at home.

A Wonderful Discovery and Rich Hunt of Treasure.

On Friday last, two youths were engaged in searching for muscels in the falls of the Shenandoah, just below Berry's Ferry, Clarke county. One of the boys feeling a hard and sleek substance, brought it to the surface, when he found it to be, as he supposed a tin box, some six inches long, four inches broad and two inches deep. Its weight excited their curiosity, and observing a clasp to it, they made for the shore, and upon opening the box found within one elegant gold watch and twenty-six rings, nineteen of them solid gold, and seven diamonds. They took their treasure and submitted it to competent judges, who put the value of the diamond rings at $125 to $150 a piece, and the gold rings, which are very heavy, at $10 each. The watch is valued at $200, and all were in a perfect dry state of preservation. The boys made a second search about the shoals, and this time succeeded in finding a heavy silver table spoon. The box containing the valuables upon examination, proved to be a beautifully chased and engraved silver one, and its value cannot be less than $50. Our friend Mr. M. Harris, examined the box and in some of the gold rings, and in some of the diamonds, he was ascertained by Mr. Sherer, Mr. T. S. Smith, and other citizens of Millwood, who had examined them, that they were of great brilliancy and value.

The supposition is that the box was lost by some of Bleeker's Dutch during the war. It was found only a few hundred yards below where some eighty-three of Bleeker's division were drowned, while attempting to cross the Shenandoah at Berry's Ferry, on rails, during the high waters of 1862. The box, rings, watch, &c., were doubtless stolen property, as the chiding propensities of Bleeker's men were manifested wherever the command was ordered. If this supposition in regard to this matter is incorrect, what hypothesis can be offered in regard to the matter?

Of the fact of its finding we entertain no doubt, as Mr. Harris and the other gentlemen quoted are perfectly reliable. — Winchester Times.

MISSING CLERGYMAN.—The Norfolk Journal states that a Rev. Mr. John M. Brandt, a Lutheran clergyman, who came to that city two weeks since and preached three sermons, professing to desire to get up a congregation, has been missing since Wednesday. His room in the Atlantic Hotel has been searched, and a few clothes and a package of letters found in it—one addressed to a Mrs. Hason, of Alexandria, from which town he hailed, says to her that she need not be frightened to find him dead—he had wished to die a long time. He feels some compunction at going into the Atlantic Hotel without money to pay his board, and says may the proprietor be "consoled for the loss of his money" by "the thought that he had cheered up the last moments of a poor, unhappy wretch."

The Journal thus describes the missing man:

"Brandt was (or is) a man of about forty-five years of age, five feet ten or eleven inches in height, spare built, with a rather bald head. His address was very good; he spoke very good English, with hardly any foreign accent. He had quite a clerical air, and was very well calculated to make friends in any community."

A gentleman informed the Mayor that he saw a man leap into the river on Thursday morning very early. He was drowned, as he did not appear again.

A PICTURE.—The Newbern Times, an insider and therefore ought to know, draws the following picture of a "few men in power," in this State, and "men high in power in league with them."

"There is reason to fear that there are a few men in power in this State, mounted men, who are working against the principles we have set forth above, and are spending money to build up another State to the detriment of our own. They care nothing for any State as long as their pockets are filled. They speculate for their own private ends, and men high in office are in league with them. Be careful how you encourage these men, or you may be found to be siding with clique, this 'Ring.' Steer clear of them, be independent, be honest; they would ruin the State for their own aggrandizement. See to it that their purposes are broken off."

The Velocipede Ride Across Niagara.

A new candidate has made his appearance before the public for glory, renown, and shakels. He is called Professor Jenkins, or the Canadian Blondin, and his forte is in riding the bicycle on a rope. His first call for public attention in this section of the country was made in a little hand-bill announcing that his "performances on the tight-rope had astonished the world, and left competitors far behind," and, furthermore, that he would ride a velocipede across Niagara Falls yesterday afternoon.

Early in the day the crowd around the Falls was far from small, and by noon the excursion trains on the Great Western and Lake Huron railroads had brought thousands of people, all anxious to see the man ride over the Falls in a velocipede. But the show was not at the Falls at all, but below the Suspension Bridge, on the exact spot where the genuine Blondin years ago crossed the river with the man on his back. The rope, two inches in diameter and 1,000 feet long, was placed in position last Friday, and made as secure and tight as possible.

THE "VELOCIPEDE" AND THE ROPE.

The machine used by Professor Jenkins is not in any sense a velocipede. It is, however, a bicycle, and turned upside down would resemble in some degree a modern velocipede. The wheels, three inches wide, are made heavy and of wood, without tires, but in their places are grooves one and three quarter inches deep. The front wheel is three feet two inches, and the hind wheel two feet ten inches in diameter. The connecting rods are iron, so also the balance-pole, which is eight feet long and tipped with ten pound balls, and weighs twenty-eight pounds. The whole thing, with the man thrown in, weighs two hundred and ninety-eight pounds. The propelling power is a pinion cog-wheel made of brass, about nine inches in diameter, which is made to gear to cogs which surround the front wheel at the bottom of the groove.

It was supposed, naturally enough, that a man riding across the Niagara river on a single rope would draw a large crowd of people to the Falls; but it costs money to buy ropes and build fences, and those interested solicited subscriptions to defray expenses. The amount raised on both sides of the river was $180, of which the Elgin House gave $50. It was also agreed that half the receipts at the bridge should go to the performer. The expenses were about $1,000, the rope alone costing $350.

The 1,000 feet of good two-inch hemp rope stretched across the chasm, 200 feet above the boiling flood, was the first object to be gazed upon by the crowd, but you could not reach it without paying twenty-five cents, which a great many did, and were rewarded by a close inspection. The cable was fastened securely and immovably on the American shore, but on the Canada shore coiled around a windlass to facilitate tightening, and then twisted and tied around a couple of cedar stumps. The deflection of the rope was about thirty feet. Photographers were early on the ground, and secured the best locations for their cameras.

HOW IT WAS DONE.

At 2:30 o'clock the Professor made his appearance at the small house on the Canada side with the pieces of his machine, and at once proceeded to put them together—a task of no small labor. With the aid of his men he first placed the fore-wheel on the rope just at the edge of the precipice, and while one man balanced it another placed on the standard from the under side, thus bringing two strong bars of iron on either side of the rope. All the joints were securely fastened with bolts. The braces or connecting rods extending from the standard to the rear shaft in the form of the letter O made the connection complete and very strong. The Professor then got outside of the rope, arranged the pinion wheel, and fastened the balance-pole across the O part of the braces. This done, the seat (a strip of leather) was secured to the rear axle by means of straps. This arrangement, which it was seen at once would throw the entire weight of this machine and the rider under the rope, was a source of disappointment, if not of relief, to many of the spectators, who, not consulting the inventive genius of the Canadian Blondin, rather expected to see him mounted on a Greenwood velocipede, which, of course, would give a good distance for ground and lofty tumbling.

All being in readiness, the bicycle was fastened by a rope to the bank, and Jenkins, who had superintended all the operations, started for his hotel to robe. During his absence the crowd viewed the machine critically, and murmurs of "humbug," "sold," "who couldn't," etc., were heard but as a general thing the crowd were pleased with the ingenious method in which the great danger supposed to be involved in the undertaking had been avoided. By this time the people, who had been pouring in on excursion trains from all parts of Canada, had assembled in convenient localities for observation to the number of perhaps 8,000.

The lion made his second appearance at 3:30 o'clock, dressed for the performance. He wore white tights, black velvet knee-breeches, shoulder straps and cross-belts of the same material, and on his head was placed a crown-shaped hat; and all were profusely bedecked with tinsel and beads. His feet were covered with buff moccasins. Before alighting from the carriage Jenkins stopped and talked with our reporter; but there was a little nervousness apparent about his eyes and mouth, which perhaps was caused by over-smoking or the enormous quid of tobacco he was seen to bite from a borrowed plug.

FALSE START.

We gave him a word of encouragement, and he at once took his position astride the rope and proceeded to arrange the leather strap or seat, which, as it was allowed to touch the rope, seemed more for the purpose of protecting the velvet pants from damage by attrition than to sit upon. In fact, he did not sit, he stood up, with his feet about eighteen inches apart, resting on the balance-pole. In a moment he grasped the handles of the pinion-wheel, and turned them, moving slowly from the bank, the crowd preserving a death-like stillness. After passing out a few yards a halt was made, and the photographers were allowed to take his picture. He then returned, waited five or ten minutes, and resumed his seat. Three pistol shots were then fired from the Canadian side, and it was a go.

The machine moved slowly forward, the rope swaying gently from side to side until he had passed out about fifty feet, when another opportunity was given the artist; after which he crawled along at a snail's pace to the middle of the abyss, where he raised and waived his hat, and received a faint cheer in response. From the centre of the American shore it was evidently hard work to propel the bicycle, but at last the edge of the cliff was reached, and then the welkin did ring with the applause of the people. The time occupied in passing over the rope was just eleven minutes.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A book by General Lee will awaken such special interest, that we are glad to call attention to it. The UNIVERSITY PUBLISHING COMPANY, No. 4 Bond Street, New York, announce that they have now in press, and will issue in a few weeks, "Memoirs of the War," by Gen. Henry Lee, thoroughly revised and corrected by Gen. R. E. Lee who has added, also, an entirely new biography of his father, prepared by him from private and personal materials never before used. It will be a large and handsome octavo volume, illustrated by new steel portraits of Gen. Henry Lee and Gen. Nathaniel Greene; beautiful steel engravings of "Marion Crossing the Pedee," and the "Surrender of Cornwallis," and five original maps and plans. Our readers need not be told that this is a work of great interest and value. It is the standard history of military operations at the South during the revolutionary war, and as such is a book which every reading man should possess; but its interest and value are both greatly increased by Gen. Robert E. Lee's thorough revision and correction, and by the valuable biography of his father which he has written and added to it.

We are sure that this announcement, alone, is sufficient to give the book a very great sale, but when we add that Gen. Lee is personally interested in its publication, such a sale is made certain.

As we learn that the book is to be sold by canvassing agents only, those who desire to engage in its sale should make early application to the publishers.

A Regular Habit of Body.

Is absolutely essential to physical health and clearness of intellect. Nor is this all. Beauty of persons cannot co-exist with an unnatural condition of the bowels. A free passage of the refuse matter of the system through these natural waste pipes, is as necessary to the purity of the body as the free passage of the offal of a city through its sewers is necessary to the health of its inhabitants.

Indigestion is the primary cause of most of the diseases of the discharging organs, and one of its most common results is constipation. This complaint, besides being dangerous in itself, has many disagreeable concomitants, such as an unpleasant breath, a swollen skin, contaminated blood and bile, hemorrhoids, headache, loss of memory, and general debility.

HOSSETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS remove all these evils by removing their immediate cause in the digestive organs, and regulating the action of the intestines. The combination of properties in this celebrated preparation is one of its chief merits. It is not merely a stimulant, or a tonic, or an anti-bilious agent, or a cathartic, or a blood purifier, but all these curative elements judiciously blended in one powerful restorative. It tends activity and vigor to the inert and enervated stomach, relieves the alimentary canal of its obstructions, and gives tone to the membrane which lines it, greatly stimulates the liver, braces the nerves, and cheers the animal spirits. No other remedy possesses such a variety of hygienic virtues. It is to these characteristics that it owes its prestige as a household medicine. Experience has proved that it is as harmless as it is efficacious, and hence it is as popular with the weaker sex as with the stronger.

HOSSETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is sold in bottles only, and the trade-mark blown in the glass and engraved on the label, with our steel engraved revenue stamp over the cork, is the test of genuineness. Beware of counterfeits.

O. G. Parsley, Esq., Commission Merchant, offers for sale, lease, or rent, a large amount of valuable real estate in Wilmington. There is no city on the Southern sea coast that has better prospects than Wilmington, and when the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad is completed, real estate will advance immensely. So Mr. Parsley is right in stating the property he has in the market offers a desirable and secure investment.

B. R. Smith, Commission Merchant, Boston. We are pleased to learn that our former townsman, B. R. Smith, Esq., who lately opened a Commission House in Boston, starts under the most favorable auspices, and has already secured a fair share of business. Mr. Smith long did business in this city where his excellent habits, thorough training and high character won him the confidence of the community; and very many will be pleased to hear of his success in his new field of labor.

W. S. Stewart, Esq., left at our office yesterday, several varieties of as elegant apples as we have seen anywhere. They were the Baltimore Red, Magnum Bonum, &c. These specimens prove two things, 1st. that this country is thoroughly adapted to the growing of such fruits, and 2nd. that Mr. Stewart knows how to cultivate them.

The following was clipped by a friend from the Goldsboro' Messenger and forwarded with a request to republish, not that things are so bad here, but by enforcing the law, we may prevent them from becoming so.

HAVE WE NO REMEDY?—There is no existence whether enforced or not, a vagrant act which defies what vagrancy is, and authorizes some disposition of those who are vagrants. This law should not only be enforced but strictly so. We have repeatedly called the attention of our town authorities to this clause of our town ordinance. There can be seen, on our streets daily, men and women who have no visible means of support whatever. From early in the morning until the shadows of night come, the bloated and semiprudent forms of negro vagrants, both men and women, near the public street corners, especially that portion of town known as the car-shed, and that obscure locality on West Centre Street, opposite the old Steam Mill building. They do not labor—not a penny do they earn by honest toil and they should be kept out of sight. It is not seldom that unsuspecting colored people from the country are made the victims of these vagrants. Let the laws which do exist be enforced.

A HINT FOR SPORTSMEN.—It is stated that ninety-five out of every hundred instances of the bursting of a double barrel gun can be traced to defects in the left barrel. The reason is simply that the right is more frequently used and reloaded, perhaps ten times to the left one being discharged once. Every time the right barrel is discharged the gunpowder in the left is pulverized more or less by the shock, and the settling of the grains leaves a space between the charge and the wadding. Hence, when the left barrel is discharged is frequently exploded. These accidents, it is asserted, can be avoided by sending the ramrod home with one or two smart blows into the non-discharged barrel every time the other is reloaded.

A curious marriage occurred last week in St. Louis. A stone-blind bridegroom was led by his blushing bride to the altar of a justice of the peace. That honest and benevolent functionary felt it to be his duty to inform the poor blind man that the chosen of his heart was really one of the ugliest women in the world, and that she had already, to his certain knowledge, buried two husbands. To this the bridegroom responded that he had seen the lady a great many years ago, and that, according to the best of his recollection, she was then "a thing of beauty" and "a form of life and light." As the unfortunate man insisted upon being married to this dream of his earlier and happier days, the knot was tied; but the Justice swore that he couldn't in conscience take a fee for doing it; and so the poor victim was led away rejoicing.

Polygamy has had one at least of its usual results in Brigham Young's kingdom. The offspring of these half civilized martial connections are sickly and short-lived. Of sixty deaths in Salt Lake City during a given month, forty-four were of children; and out of sixty-three children in the home of Kimball, forty-eight have died; one bishop has lost twenty, another twenty-eight, and a third, seventeen children. One reason of this dreadful mortality is to be found in the fact that polygamy makes children cheap and worthless, and they are consequently neglected, especially as there is no guaranty of that affection between their parents which renders these pledges doubly dear. We have a suspicion, too, that some at least of these numerous deaths must be attributed to infanticide, which has always been common in polygamous countries.

The "Government" just now is so scattered about at the fashionable watering places, that the President, it seems, cannot get enough of his constitutional advisers together to hold a Cabinet meeting. What a good, easy old soul Uncle Sam is, to be sure, thus to give his employees, from the head man down, so protracted a holiday spree—all the while that their salaries are continued.

S. B. SEXTON'S CELEBRATED
PATENT BALTIMORE PARLOR HEATERS AND GAS BURNERS, for Anthracite or Bituminous coal, have been successful operation for the last ten years, and have proved to be the best First-class Heaters manufactured and put in operation. They are getting to be generally used, often in the place of furnaces, for heating the lower and upper rooms in dwellings and offices. Two or three Stoves heating the largest dwellings, and besides, are quite ORNAMENTAL and ILLUMINATING, having all the beauty and cheerfulness of an open grate fire, but are more ECONOMICAL, CLEANER, and RADIATE A LARGER AMOUNT OF HEAT. We can refer to thousands of families who have them in use.
We manufacture our own COOKING STOVES, and we guarantee them to be equal to any sold for baking and cooking. We have Stoves to take in long wood and with large ovens, and are superior Stoves for baking. We are getting out some new patterns of Cooking Stoves, that will burn Bituminous coal, hard coal, or wood. They will have a beautiful fire,
and will stand among the Best Cook Stoves.
Our Cooking Stoves are Baltimore made, and we guarantee the plates. Our Cooking Ranges are superior to any other. They will have a beautiful fire,
and will stand among the Best Cook Stoves.
Baking of all kinds can be done in our Ranges as quasily and equally as well as in a Brick oven. We will manufacture S. B. SEXTON'S new patent Hot-Air Furnaces, warranted to burn from 30 to 70 hours with one filling.
Thankful to our friends and the public for their past favors, we solicit a continuance of their pa-
